

MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL.

VOLUME XVII.

THE SENTINEL.

Daily, $1—Tri-Weekly, $4—Weekly, $10.
INVARIABLE IN ADVANCE.

JERMAIN & BRIGHTMAN,
Publishers and Proprietors.

T. D. JERMAIN M. H. BRIGHTMAN

SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 19, 1860

To the Public.

The Sentinel, having double the circulation to ours, and more than triple that of any other paper here, deserves it for the clearest and most decided voice in Milwaukee for all classes of Advertising.

Any advertiser who can obtain his first best, will do well to place his advertisement in our paper, as we can give him the same price charged by other papers, and secure more than double the result.

This is no boast, but every word true.

For Mail Subscribers.—$5.

The FIGUREN of the Friend Advertiser has been published in Milwaukee, and may be paid for. For instance, [20 Ap'l 1st], means paid to 20 Ap'l 1st. Subscribers will please enclose their names and addresses, and the FIGUREN will be sent to them.

For short-hand advertisements when the time paid for is less than a week, a sum under the money will be advanced.

JERMAIN & BRIGHTMAN.

FOR PRESIDENT.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

The Nomination.

By despatches received here yesterday from Chicago, we are informed that ABRAHAM LINCOLN, of Illinois, was nominated for President on the third ballot—receiving 355 votes.

It is useless to disguise the fact that the news was received with some disappointment. The first choice of Wisconsin was Wm. H. SEWARD. However, there is a unanimous determination to support him.

He is a self-made man, of sound Republicanism; based on all the principles which underlie the party; a man of spotless reputation, of great energy and decision of character, and in every respect the man of the North-West and of the Union.

A FRIEND RIDER.—Mr. FREDERICK COLTING, a Conductor on the Hudson River Railroad, gives an account of the following wondrous affair. When his train arrived at Greenbush, and while it was being switched off into another track, on Sunday morning, he overrode a foot and a half projecting from one of the trucks. The train stopping at this instant, he went to the spot and saw two boys clinging to the truck of the car. They came out when ordered, covered with dust from head to foot. They had ridden under the car from Dobbs' Ferry, a distance of one hundred and twenty miles! They stated that they walked from the city to Dobbs' Ferry on Saturday, and, being tired, could not walk any further, when they sat upon the truck of the car, and rode the entire distance to Greenbush. The boys were respectively aged 16 and 14 years.

Mr. SHERIDAN, a diver, has returned to Halifax from Cape Sable. He descended several times into the interior of the wrecked steamer Hungarian. The Halifax Journal says: "The scene which presented itself was appalling in the extreme; for although there were no corpses in the interior of the ship, there were nearly twenty bodies discovered entangled in the wreckage and in the gutters close by. These frightful remnants of poor humanity exhibited all the stages of dismemberment; heads, arms, legs, &c., and all more or less in a state of decomposition." Those seen appeared to have been up and dressed, or partly so, as some of them were evidently in the act of putting on their shoes, or other clothing, when the king of terrors put a stop to their toil forever."

THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Amendments to and Debate on the Platform.

The following is a complete report of the debate upon the platform adopted by the Republican National Convention, which was published yesterday, embracing the amendments thereto:

Mr. Carter.—Mr. Chairman: That report is so full of misnomers from beginning to end, and so frequently carries through with its own vindication, that I do not believe the Convention will desire a discussion upon it, and I therefore call the previous question upon it. [Applause.] And make a final vote of "good, good," and "no."³⁷

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, sir, solemnly to appeal to my friend—[great confusion] cries of "Order, order!" from the press gallery. A voice says—"What is the previous question?"

"Order, order, want to speak, but we don't want to be choked off."³⁸

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all discussion. [Great confusion and cries of "Order, order!"]

A Debate at the south end of the platform.—The resolutions have not been distributed among the members yet, and will the gentleman ask to vote upon a party platform we have not seen?

Mr. Carter.—I insist upon the previous question.

Mr. Giddings.—I arise, and I believe I have the right, with the leave of my colleague, to offer a short amendment before the previous question is called.

Mr. Carter.—I did it to you off, and all

Presidential Election!
THE GREAT CAMPAIGN
IS AT HAND!!

Let Every Republican Prepare for the Conflict !!

Circulate Truth among the People !!

THE WEEKLY SENTINEL
Six Months for Less than Cost of Paper and Printing!!!

READ AND BE CONVINCED!

The approaching campaign is to be a momentous one. The battle will be fought mainly between the friends and the enemies of freedom, and the ground contested lies in the view of these facts, it appears that the dissemination of Republican papers and documents becomes of vast and vital importance. In order to furnish the WEEKLY SENTINEL to the people of the North-West, during the Campaign of 1860, we have concluded to offer the paper, 1860, the 16th of May to the 16th of November, at the following unprecedented liberal terms:

One Copy for _____ $0.00
Twenty Copies, to one address, _____ $0.00
Fifty Copies, _____ $0.00
One Hundred do _____ $0.00

The terms will fully cover the cost of printing. It is printed, but we have determined to put the price so low that every individual, Republican, or organzinal Club, in this or adjoining States, will use their best efforts to scatter the Sentinel broadcast in their particular localities, and thus accomplish more by the circulation of 1860, as many documents in other form. Every Campaign subscriber will receive the Proceedings of the National Convention to be held in May, and full returns of the election in November.

We need not urge upon our Republican friends the importance of placing this sheet in the hands of all. Let no voter, or family in the State, be without the Sentinel during the Campaign. Wherever facts are read, the people have access to truth, Republicanism prevails.

Send us your orders as early in May as possible. Address: JERMAIN & BRIGHTMAN, Milwaukee, April 9, 1860.

REPUBLICAN PAPER in this State, with whom we exchange, will please publish the name, or the substance of it, one or two times, and thereby lay us under additional obligation for the favor.

Special Notices.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS!

DON'T FAIL TO PROGURE MRS. DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS, which are a sure remedy for children's teeth, & toothache, which enter. It greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gum, reducing inflammation—will cure pain, and remove the soreness, & swelling, & tenderness to the touch, & relief and health to your infants. Perfectly safe in all cases.

For the preparation of the prescription of oil of camphor, & other useful Female Physic, see Dr. Cheeseman's advertisement with never failing success in all cases.

We invent the best and surest remedy in the world, in cases of Dysentry and Diarrhoea in children, whether it comes from teething or any other cause.

Age and health can be estimated by dollars and cents, its weight in gold.

Address: J. R. CHEESEMAN, in the United States.

I am an old trialist myself.

PAID ONLY 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

No medicine unless the law of CURTIS & HARRIS, New York, or the outside wrapper.

Send us your orders to the world. One, 18 Cedar street, New York.

Send in Milwaukee by John Rice.

John Rice, 18 Cedar street, New York.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS,

Prepared by G. C. Cheeseman, M.D.,

NYC.

THE COMBINATION OF INGREDIENTS IN THE PILLS are such that they will be of service to all classes of Females.

They are safe, & will not interfere with any other medicine.

They are a safe & certain remedy for all diseases.

They are safe & certain for all diseases.

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS
FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.THE CHICAGO CONVENTION!
Abraham Lincoln Nominated for President!

CHICAGO, May 18.—3 P.M.
A full hour before the nominating assembly was over, the Wigwam was densely packed, the interest in the proceedings appearing to increase as the time for balloting approached.

H. W. Mr. Greeley opened the proceedings with prayer.

The motion was announced that the pending motion was to take a ballot for candidate for President of the United States.

Blair, of Mo., moved to adjourn five minutes, to allow the delegations to double the electoral vote.

The motion was lost.

The Convention then proceeded to ballot for a candidate for President.

Events of New York nominated Wm. H. Seward.

John C. of Illinois, nominated Abraham Lincoln.

Wm. F. of New York, nominated W. L. D. of Pennsylvania, nominated Gov. E. of Pennsylvania, nominated S. P. Chase.

S. of Ohio, nominated S. P. Chase.

Smith of Ind., seconded the nomination of Abraham Lincoln.

Chair of Minn., nominated J. M. Seward.

Chair of Wisconsin, seconded the nomination of Seward.

The names of candidates were received with great applause; those for Seward and Lincoln predominating.

Lincoln was called; and the ballot result—

Seward, 172 1/2; Lincoln, 102; Bates, 48; Cameron 30; McLean, 12; Chase, 49; Wade, 2; Dayton, 1. Fremont, 1. Johnson, 1. AERAHN HAMILTON was unanimously nominated on the third ballot.

CHICAGO, May 19.—P.M.

Last night, M. C. M. offered, yet encouraging to Seward, who demanded his nomination, to go to the convention, and to be present to be voted in for Lincoln. Seward gave two more votes than on first ballot. Fremont and other New England States followed, giving seven more for Lincoln. Pennsylvania, fearful of Seward's nomination, and seeing Lincoln's chances best, cast almost a solid vote for the latter.

Lincoln's gain on 24 ballot, 79. Seward's gain on same 11.

The New Yorkers, still confident, passed for a 34 ballot, but were disappointed as Mr. Greeley, of Ohio, and Oregon, went almost entirely for Lincoln, who fell short of a nomination by only 2 1/2 votes.

Ohio's were then changed to Lincoln, giving him the nomination, and, in view of Seward's vote, the motion of Seward, of N. Y., to make the nomination unanimous.

EVANS SESSION.—The Convention assembled at five o'clock, and order obtained at half-past six, when it proceeded at once to the ballot for Vice President.

Mr. Carter, of Ohio, nominated Hon. H. W. Hamlin of Maine.

Mr. Smith, of Missouri, nominated Cassius M. Clay, of Kentucky. [Loud applause.]

Gov. Birney, of Indiana, John Wickliffe, of West Virginia, and N. P. Banks, were nominated.

The first ballot resulted as follows:

Hamlin—Maine, 16; New Hampshire, 10; Vermont, 10; Massachusetts, 1; Rhode Island, 3; Connecticut, 1; New Jersey, 34; New York, 1; Pennsylvania, 11; Illinois, 8; Delaware, 2; Ohio, 43; Indiana, 8; Michigan, 8; Illinois, 2; Wisconsin, 1; Iowa, 6; Minnesota, 6; Oregon, 1. Total—192.

HANNIBAL HAMILTON nominated on the second ballot.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—P.M.

SENATE.—Mr. Green offered a resolution, that on and after Monday next the Senate meet at 10 o'clock, laid aside.

Mr. Dix, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported a bill to carrying into effect the treaty with China, Japan, and Persia.

The message from the President, relative to the Missouri Compromise measures, was taken up, and ordered printed.

Reports of a private nature were received.

Mr. H. H. Bill introduced a bill to provide for the examination and payment of claims of the citizens of Texas for apportionment by Indians.

The bill to authorize the payment of certain contracts, made by the government agents, was taken up and postponed.

The bill for the relief of Hannibal Dow was taken up. Mr. Dix spoke at length in opposition to Dow's views. He did not want to force slaves on a reluctant people, but did want to make them respect the rights of others and the Constitution of the country. The subject was postponed till Monday.

Adams.—Mr. Reynolds, from the judiciary committee, reported a bill to repeal the act and establish the trial by jury, and to provide for the examination of claims by the District Circuit Courts of the U. S.

Mr. H. H. Bill made an indifferent attempt to get up the Texas regiment amendment to the military academy bill.

The regiment bill came up.

Mr. H. H. Bill moved to postpone till Tuesday to lay on the private bills. Lost by 13 majority.

Mr. Wadsworth of Ill., gave notice of the adjournment.

The bill was discussed by Wadsworth, John C. of Indiana, Clark of N. Y., and others, on motion to recommit.

The House passed a bill for the protection of lives on board steamboats, also denied Mr. Dix's motion to adjourn, and adjourned from N. Y. in place of Mr. Estabrook; and Mr. Dix was sworn in.

Several private bills passed. Adjourned.

How the News of Lincoln's Nomination was Received at Albany.

ALBANY, May 18.—P. M.

One hundred guns are now being fired by the 11th Regt. in the city, in honor of the nomination of Lincoln as President. The greatest excitement prevails. The streets are alive with politicians, and groups are gathered on State street and Broadway, discussing the suit of the nomination.

The announcement of the nomination of Lincoln was entirely unexpected to the Republicans of this city. They were confident that Seward would be the man, and when it was announced he was in his place, they were very anxious of any news concerning him, to pay the fitting (as the phrase goes) for himself and friends.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards. This was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would, a party of friends, have a hand at a room game, and when he had a hand to play, he would lose the twenty or thirty dollars worth of chips originally staked, he would rise from the table and stretch himself with an avowed feeling of relief, and then, in gambling houses, he was sure to play the game, though he could only hold a hand or two cards.

This was the case, but he was now, and then he was indeed fond of cards. He would